Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 8 recites the limitation "the gas" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35
U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 5. Claims 1-6, 10, 12-15, 17 & 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 3,050,073 to MCMILLAN. In Figures 1-2 and relative associated text, MCMILLAN discloses processing workpieces by placing workpieces in a workpiece support (basket 10; see Figures 2, col. 2, lines 1-17, col. 3, lines 37-44), enclosing the workpiece support with workpieces within chamber (enclosure 40 with lid/door 43; see Figure 1 & col. 3, lines 1-5), providing a process liquid in the chamber and immersing the workpieces (see col. 3, lines 37-50), introducing a vapor (see "sprayed" in col. 3, lines 62-64).

pivoting the chamber to remove the process liquid (see col. 3, lines 65-68), enclosing the chamber with an outer containment chamber (see "sink" disclosure in col. 3, lines 25-27). Re claims 3 & 12, MCMILLAN further discloses springs 46 (col. 3, lines 7-21) on the bottom of the workpiece holder for resilient support but doesn't explicitly disclose rotating the workpiece holder to provide fluid agitation. The position is taken that one of ordinary skill would recognize that operation of the workpiece holder having such resilient supports would inherently create a certain degree of rotation about a central axis of the workpiece holder bottom during contact of the springs with the bottom of the chamber/container 40. Since applicant does not define any degree of rotation, the position is taken that any degree of rotation of a workpiece holder reads on applicant's claimed invention. Accordingly, recitation of MCMILLAN reads on applicant's claims.

Terminal Disclaimer

6. The terminal disclaimer filed on 15 November 2004 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of U.S. Patent No. 6,427,359 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 19-20 and 22 are allowed.

8. Claims 7, 9, 11, 16 and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The closest prior art of record, MCMILLAN, does not teach or reasonably suggest the method steps of claims 7, 9, 11, 18, 18-20 or 22.
